Recruitment: Underrepresented Minorities (URM)

We recruited students through research programs to obtain a diversity of disciplines in our chapter. These programs are aimed at disadvantaged and first generation college students who seek to pursue research careers. We also visited introductory STEM lectures to advertise our chapter and gain underclassmen. This is often difficult because not all STEM majors are within the same college at San Diego State University. For example, all engineering majors are within College of Engineering whereas biology and chemistry is within College of Sciences. We are an inclusive chapter open to all backgrounds including but not limited to: gender, sexuality, race, ethnicity, religion, and socio-economic class.
