Discover NDiSTEM

SACNAS advances science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) by hosting the largest multidisciplinary and multicultural conference in the country. NDiSTEM offers a unique space where attendees can bring their whole selves to STEM. This transformative event equips, empowers, and energizes participants through research presentation opportunities, professional development sessions, an Academic and Career Expo, and vibrant community cultural celebrations.

“NDiSTEM is a space where I can be surrounded by thousands of individuals who all share a common goal of [advancing] STEM, an environment where culture is celebrated and encouraged, and a place where we can build community.”
